When I was little, my father was famous
He was the greatest samurai in the empire
And he was the Shogun's
decapitator
He cut off the heads of 131
lords
It was a bad time for the empire
The Shogun just stayed inside his castle and he never came out
People said his brain was infected by devils
My father
would come home, he would forget about the killings
He wasn't scared of the Shogun, but the Shogun was scared of him Maybe that was the problem
Then, one night,
the Shogun
sent his ninja spies to our house
They were supposed to kill my father but they didn't

'I trained in the techniques of the shinobi in the valley where the monkeys dwelled.... No. There were two of us. We were rogue Shinobi... There was no proper master for the likes of us. That's why we went to the valley. To run, to jump, to clash swords... where one slip would mean your doom. That was how we trained. ... We came to move exactly as monkeys did after a time. I'd drink this Monkey Booze whenever I tired of training. And I'd listen to the howl of my partner's whistling finger while I drank. It was from his unique ring... Whistling through that ring... Would fill the valley with a somber melody. Strangely enough, I enjoyed that sound. I listened to it so often'
